⇒ What is the Early Admissions Exercise (EAE)?

EAE is an admissions exercise for students to apply and receive conditional offers for admission to polytechnic based on their aptitudes and interests, before their O-Level exams. This will replace the Direct Polytechnic Admissions (DPA) Exercise and Joint Polytechnic Special Admissions Exercise (JPSAE).

⇒ Who can take part in EAE?

EAE is available to the following:

- Singapore Citizens (SC) and Permanent Residents (PR) who have registered to sit for the O-Level exams in the year of EAE application;
- International Students enrolled in government, government-aided and Independent Schools during the year of EAE application, and who have registered to sit for the O-Level exams in the year of EAE application.

⇒ How do I apply?

You may apply via the Joint Portal of the Polytechnics in Singapore at www.polytechnic.edu.sg.

⇒ How will I be assessed for admission through this exercise?

EAE focuses on students who have strong aptitude and interest in a field related to the diploma course they are applying for.

Selection and assessment will be based on submission of portfolios, interviews and aptitude tests, where relevant and appropriate. Participation in relevant CCAs, Advanced Elective Modules (AEMs) and Applied Graded Subjects (AGS), work attachments and sustained involvement in projects related to the course applied, and outstanding achievements in sports, arts, leadership, entrepreneurship and community service may also be considered.

⇒ Are all the courses offered by SP available for selection under the EAE?

Yes, you may choose to apply for any course offered by SP. There are no restrictions. Please refer to www.sp.edu.sg/courses for the list of courses offered by SP.

⇒ Once I am logged on to the EAE application webpage, what would I be expected to do?

Once you are logged on, you will be asked to complete your personal particulars, as well as submit a write-up to express your passion and aptitude for the course you are applying for.

⇒ If I am successful in the first round of selections, what would I be expected to do next?

If you are shortlisted after your online application, you will be notified to attend interviews. Do bring along your portfolio of works, if any.

⇒ Am I required to meet any admissions criteria?

Having the requisite academic foundation will ensure that you are able to cope with the rigour of a polytechnic education and benefit from it. Therefore, the following two admissions criteria are necessary:

- You must have a net ELR2B2 aggregate score of 26 points or better for the O-Level exams; and
- You must meet the minimum entry requirements (MER) for the selected diploma courses. The MER for each course can be found on www.sp.edu.sg.

⇒ What happens if I do not meet the admissions criteria after the release of the O-Level results?

If you do not meet the admissions criteria, your conditional offer will be revoked. You will be able to apply for admission to a polytechnic through the Joint Admissions Exercise (JAE) using your O-Level exam results.

⇒ Can I participate in both the EAE and the Direct School Admission – Junior Colleges (DSA-JC) Exercise concurrently?

Yes, you can participate in both EAE and DSA-JC. However, you should only accept either a polytechnic or JC offer. Students who accept both offers will be disqualified from both exercises, unless they cancel one of the offers before the end of the Acceptance Stage.

⇒ If I have accepted an EAE offer, can I still withdraw my acceptance so that I can participate in JAE? If so, what must I do?

Yes. Should you wish to withdraw your acceptance, you must submit your withdrawal online via the EAE webpage before the specified deadline. Students who have accepted an EAE offer but do not withdraw by the deadline will be deemed to have confirmed their acceptance and will not be eligible to participate in JAE and other admissions exercises.
