

About Us > News & Publications > News & Announcements > 2007 Archive > Apr - Jun 2007

Academic Facilities
May 2007
Computer Facilities

Media Facilities

Scoring silvers for the environment

Other Facilities
14 May 2007

Two of SP's finest have once again done us proud when they both won the Silver Standard in the Digital Art Competition on the Environment, organised by the British Council.

Justin Tan Wei Yang from DCMD's 'The Penguin' and Farhana Ja'afar from DDM 'Don't Live in Ignorance! Do Something!' were presented their awards on 20 April 2007 at the Singapore Science Centre. Presenting their awards to them was Dr Amy Khor, the Senior Parliament Secretary of the Ministry of the Environment and Water Resources.

Their art pieces will be exhibited at the Singapore Science Centre together with the Climate Change exhibition by the Senoko Power Ltd, as part of the Earth Day Celebration.

Justin is the student leader of the mural project at Moberly and had also won in a number of competitions the most recent being the top in the PhotoVista PhotoCompetition organised by MicroSoft in March.

Justin receives his award from Dr Amy Khor

Artwork by: Justin Tan
Title: The Penguin

Emperor penguin numbers declined 50 per cent at Terre Adelie in Antarctica during a period of prolonged, abnormally warm and unusually variable winter

Farhana Ja'afar gladly accepts her award from Dr Amy Khor temperatures.

Due to global warming, penguin numbers declined by 50 per cent.